A Report on

Fiscal Year 2004 Historic Preservation Fund Grants to Indian Tribes, Alaskan Natives and Native Hawaiian Organizations

United States Department of the Interior National Park Service Heritage Preservation Services Tribal Preservation Program

INTRODUCTION

The National Historic Preservation Act of 1966 authorizes grants to Indian tribes for cultural and historic preservation projects. Now in its fourteenth year, this grant program assists American Indians and Alaska Natives in protecting and promoting their unique cultural traditions.

From the beginning, the program has been shaped by Indian tribes. Tribal representatives defined "historic preservation from a tribal perspective" in a National Park Service report to Congress in 1990. Keepers of the Treasures -- Protecting Historic Properties and Cultural Traditions on Indian Land describes, in the words of Indian people, what they are concerned with protecting. Native language, oral history, plant and animal species important in tradition, sacred and historic places, and the establishment of tribal historic preservation offices are all part of preservation from a tribal perspective. The grants selected in Fiscal Year 2004 continue to reflect this broad range of funding needs.

Since 1990, approximately $15.5 million has been awarded to 431 Indian and Alaska Native communities. In Fiscal Year 2004, a total of $531,944 is being awarded to 15 communities for a broad range of historic preservation projects. The projects selected for funding are summarized below.

GRANT SELECTION PROCESS

Federally recognized Indian tribes, Alaskan Native groups, and Native Hawaiian organizations were invited to submit grant applications to support historic preservation projects and promote the continuation of living cultural traditions.

The application guidelines listed five major categories of eligible activities for Historic Preservation Fund grants: locating and identifying cultural resources, preserving a historic property listed on the National Register, preservation planning, oral history and documenting cultural traditions, and education and training projects in historic and cultural preservation.

Grant applications and application guidelines were mailed in December 2003 to the chief elected officials of all Federally recognized Indian tribes, Alaskan Native groups, Native Hawaiian organizations, and to others on a mailing list of over 1,400 individuals and organizations. In all, 101 proposals were received requesting approximately $3.9 million.

Panels of experts who met in Washington, D.C. April 27, 2004, evaluated each application. Panel members are listed below.

GRANT APPLICATION REVIEW CONSIDERATIONS

Reviewers were asked to consider the following in evaluating applications:

- 1. How does this project address a critical cultural or historic preservation issue for the tribe?
- 2. Are the project objectives, activities, and desired results (products) well designed, thought-through, and achievable?
- 3. Will qualified people carry out the project?
- 4. Is the project budget clear and reasonable?
- 5. Is there demonstrable commitment to this project by the tribe?
- 6. What is the lasting impact on and benefit to the tribe if the project is successfully completed?
